3 Use of the Facilities:

3.1 Work use of the Facilities

The Facilities are made available to You during the course of your employment with the Company to assist You in carrying out and promoting the Company’s business and interests.

3.2 Personal use of the Facilities

The Facilities may not be used for personal communications or to send and retrieve personal messages and to browse external web-sites for personal use

The content of personal e-mails must also comply with the restrictions set out in section 3.3 of this policy. If using the Facilities for personal communications You should be aware that the Company may monitor your use of the Facilities in accordance with section 6 of this policy and any breaches of this policy may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

3.3 Prohibited use of the Facilities

The following uses of the Facilities are expressly prohibited:

- viewing internet sites which contain pornographic, obscene, abusive, slanderous, or otherwise offensive material or downloading or forwarding such material within or outside the Company.
- sending, receiving, or forwarding communications that are in violation of company policy including, but not limited to, the transmission of obscene, offensive, or harassing messages.
- sending receiving or forwarding communications which make unsubstantiated and potentially defamatory comments about colleagues, clients, candidates or any other person via the Facilities or any Networking Site. You are reminded that communications via social media constitutes publication just as printing in hard copy or via email is publication. You personally, and/ or the Company could face a defamation action should you publish unsubstantiated and potentially defamatory material.
- sending, receiving, or forwarding communications that disclose Confidential Information without the prior authorisation of your line manager
- bullying or harassing colleagues, clients, candidates or any other person via the Facilities or any Networking Sites
- discriminating or making offensive or derogatory comments about any colleagues, clients, candidates or any other person via the Facilities or any Networking Site.
- breaching any other Company's policies including in particular, but not limited to, the Data Protection Policy and Data Protection Procedure, the Equal Opportunities and Diversity Policy.
- engaging in any behaviour which might cause either the Company to be in breach of the REC Code of Professional Conduct or You to be in breach of the Institute of Recruitment Professionals Code of Ethics (if You are a member of that Institute);
- duplicating copyrighted or licensed software or other information without the appropriate authorisation;
- installing or downloading any software or hardware without the specific approval of your line manager or other person delegated by him/ her to give such approval;

- forwarding or otherwise perpetuating junk mail or “chain-letter” type e-mail within or outside the Company;
- removing any hardware or software from the Facilities or the Company’s premises without prior approval of your line manager; and
- selling or advertising anything via the Facilities or broadcast messages about lost property, sponsorship, or charity appeals, without the written agreement of your line manager.

If you engage in any prohibited activities this may result in the Company taking action against You under the Company’s Disciplinary, Dismissal and Grievance Procedures and which ultimately could lead to the termination of Your employment.

4 Use of Networking Sites and Jobs Boards:

Networking Sites and Jobs Boards are valuable business tools which the Company wishes to use to build its brand, reputation and business and which it recognises You may wish to use to build Your own professional reputation.

However, in addition to the benefits there are also certain risks attached to using Networking Sites including but not limited to the Company’s Confidential Information, reputation, and compliance with their legal obligations, including in particular the Data Protection Laws.

When you take Professional Contact details from Jobs Boards or Networking Sites this constitutes “processing” for the purposes of the Data Protection Laws. The Company must have a lawful basis to process all personal data, including any data taken from Jobs Boards and Social Networking sites.

In order to reduce those risks, for both Yourself and the Company, where and when You are representing the Company You must comply with conditions set out in this policy. Failure to comply with this policy may result in the Company taking action against You under the Company’s Disciplinary and Grievance Procedure.

4.1 Professional Networking Sites and Jobs Boards

The Company may provide You with access to Professional Networking Sites and Jobs Boards. Such access is granted for work-related purposes only and should be done for the benefit of the Company alone, though professional networking activity may be done inside or outside of working hours.

4.1.1 Rules for using Professional Networking Sites and Jobs Boards

The following rules apply when You access or use a Professional Networking Site or Jobs Board:

- You must have written permission from your line manager before setting up an account for any Professional Networking Site or Jobs Board.
- You should create the account on the Professional Networking Site or Jobs Board using your work email address only.
- You must notify your line manager of the details of your account including the password. Your password is confidential and should not be disclosed to any unauthorised person.
- You should only use the account for the purpose for which it was authorised. [If you are commenting on a Professional Networking Site on behalf of the Company you must seek approval from your line manager before submitting that comment.]
- You shall inform the Company of activities that you carry out in relation to Professional Networking Sites or Jobs Boards including details of your membership of sites that you have set up and new contacts that you have made during the course of your employment.
- You must comply with the terms and conditions of use of all Networking Sites that You use. You should pay particular attention to any codes of behaviour or professional conduct contained within those terms and conditions.
- You must only upload Professional Contacts to the Company's database(s) when you are satisfied that the Company has a legal basis for processing the personal data of that Professional Contact. [You must not download or copy Professional Contacts to personal devices [without prior written authorisation from Your line manager]. If you have permission to download or copy Professional Contacts to personal devices you will give access to the Company to those personal devices [for audit when requested/ if the Company receives a Personal Data Request.] [Notes Error! Reference source not found. and Error! Reference source not found.]

- You must regularly backup your Professional Contacts.
- You must delete any Professional Contacts you are instructed to delete by the Company (which may include a general instruction to delete records in order to comply with the Data Protection Laws).
- You should not disclose Confidential Information unless You have been authorised to disclose by Your line manager.
- REC Corporate members are also required to comply with the Code of Professional Practice and individual recruiters with the Code of Ethics of the Institute of Professional Recruiters.
- You must advise the Company if you become aware of any breach of this policy by a colleague. Failure to do so may be a disciplinary offence.
- The Company reserves the right to restrict your access to Professional Networking Sites and accounts that the Company has created for you.

4.1.2 Contacts made via Professional Networking Sites

- You must keep Personal Contacts separate from Professional Contacts.
- The Company reserves the right to require You to provide evidence and details as to when You made your contacts and in which capacity they were made. You will be required to give access to your account(s) to your line manager for this purpose. The Company's decision on whether a contact constitutes a Personal or Professional Contact shall be final.

4.1.3 Maintenance of company profile on Professional Networking Sites

Certain Professional Networking Sites contain company profile pages relating to the Company. For the avoidance of doubt, these profile pages may only be edited by authorised users. Amendment of the Company's profile pages by unauthorised users shall be a disciplinary offence (and for this purpose You are referred to the Company's Disciplinary, Dismissal and Grievance Procedures).

If you are authorised to make a comment on a Professional Networking Site you must state clearly whether these are personal views or the views of the Company.

4.1.4 Social Networking Sites

The Company respects Your right to a private life but access to social networking websites via the Facilities and during working hours is strictly forbidden [unless prior authorisation is obtained from Your line manager

Your use of Social Networking Sites may impact on the Company and its business. Such impact includes potentially causing damage to its reputation, loss of Confidential Information, or exposure to other liabilities such as claims of discrimination, harassment, or workplace bullying. The content of any communications or comments posted on a Social Networking Site must not damage or bring into disrepute the Company, its staff, clients, or candidates. Therefore, if You use Social Networking Sites, even where this is not via the Facilities or is outside of working hours You are prohibited from:

- engaging in any conduct or posting any comments which are detrimental to the Company.
- engaging in any conduct or posting any comments which could damage working relationships between members of staff, Introducers, suppliers, affiliates, Clients and Candidates of the Company. Where you express personal views, you must state that these are personal views and do not represent the views of the Company;
- engaging in any conduct or posting any comments which could be derogatory to another person or third party or which could constitute unlawful discrimination or harassment.
- recording any Confidential Information regarding the Company on any social networking site or posting comments about any Company related topics such as the Company's performance; and/or
- making information available which could provide any person with unauthorised access to the Company, the Facilities and/or any Confidential Information.

You may be required to remove postings deemed to constitute a breach of this policy. This may include any 'likes' or 'dislikes' of other people's posts or the re-posting/tweeting of other people's comments (or links thereto) which of themselves may constitute a breach of this policy.

4.1.5 Post termination of employment or engagement restrictions

For the avoidance of doubt, the restrictions on the use of Networking Sites continue to apply throughout Your employment with the Company including any period of garden leave you may serve.

5 How to use the Facilities and Networking Sites

5.1 Information recipients

You must exercise caution when using the Facilities and any Networking Sites. In addition to the restrictions set out in sections 3 and 4 of this policy, care must be used in addressing emails, postings on Networking Sites or other electronic communications to make sure that they are not sent to the wrong individual or company. In particular, exercise care in using e-mail distribution lists or Networking Sites to make sure that all addressees or site group members are appropriate recipients of the information sent or posted.

5.2 Content and tone of communications

All e-mails, postings on Networking Sites and electronic communications should be courteous, professional and business-like and, as set out in sections 2 and 3, should not contain any material, which would reflect badly on the Company's reputation. If You receive an e-mail, posting or other communication containing material that is offensive or inappropriate to the office environment then You must inform your line manager and delete on their instruction. Under no circumstances should such e-mails, postings or communications be forwarded internally or externally.

5.3 Out of Office messages

- If You are out of the office [for more than one hour] you should put an "Out of Office" message on your emails and on your voicemail(s). This message should indicate when you will be back in the office and should identify another person whom the sender or caller can contact in your absence should they need to.
- [Your emails and phone calls will] be monitored in your absence.]

5.4 Deleting or archiving material

- You should not store large quantities of e-mail or downloaded files or attachments. The retention of data utilises large amounts of storage space on network servers, PCs and mobile media, and can adversely affect system performance.
- You should delete any e-mails or other communications sent or received that no longer require action or are no longer relevant to Your work or to the Company.

- You should retain any information that you need for record-keeping purposes in line with the Company's Data Protection policy.

5.5 Suspect documents, messages or viruses

- Any files or software downloaded from the Internet, personal mobile media or other software or hardware brought from home (and for which you have previously obtained authorisation to download as per section 2 of this policy) must be virus-checked before installation on the Facilities and use.
- If you receive any suspect e-mails, communications, documents, or computer virus alerts you should:
 - contact your line manager immediately,
 - not open attachments to any email message whose address You do not recognise; and
 - not forward them to any other internal or external user without the approval of your line manager.

5.6 Passwords

- Your password(s) is/ are confidential and should not be disclosed to any unauthorised person.
- The Company reserves the right to access any accounts (whether email or networking sites) in which case You will be required to give Your password to your line manager.
- Passwords should be changed regularly. To protect passwords, you should not access the Facilities in the presence of others and Confidential Information should never be left open on the screen when equipment is unattended.

6 Monitoring use of the Facilities, Professional and Social Networking Sites:

- The Company has the right to monitor any and all aspects of the use of the Facilities and any Networking Sites and Jobs Boards and to monitor, intercept and/or record any communications made by using the Facilities and any Networking Sites. This is to ensure compliance with this policy or for any other purpose authorised under the Telecommunications (Lawful Business Practice) (Interception of Communications) Regulations 2000.

- By using the Facilities and any Networking Sites You consent voluntarily and knowingly to Your use being monitored. You also acknowledge the right of the Company to conduct such monitoring.

7 Unsolicited Communications which is not marketing

- The Company must establish that it has a lawful basis to process the individual's personal data before it sends out any non-marketing communication. Any marketing communication must comply with the Company's Marketing Policy.

8 Termination of employment or engagement with the Company

- All email address lists, or other contact information stored on the Facilities are Confidential Information and remain the property of the Company even after the termination of Your employment or engagement with the Company.
- You may not copy or remove any email address lists or other contact information stored on the Facilities without prior written permission from the Company.
- You should ensure that any genuinely Personal Contacts are, where possible, stored separately from any Professional Contacts. Upon termination of Your employment or engagement for whatever reason you may seek the Company's permission to remove or copy Your Personal Contacts from the Facilities.
- On or prior to the termination of your employment or engagement with the Company for whatever reason you must speak to Your line manager to determine what steps to take in relation to any Professional Networking Sites you use. The Company reserves the right to require you to:
 - advise your Professional Contacts on any Professional Networking Site of the date on which you will be leaving the Company and who Your Professional Contacts can contact at the Company when You leave the Company.
 - delete Your account on any Professional Networking Site.
 - delete all of Your Professional Contacts and not retain a copy of Your Professional Contacts' details without prior written permission from the Company.

- hand over control of your account on all or any Professional Networking Site(s) to Your line manager together with all passwords. Your line manager will be entitled to notify your contacts on all or any Professional Networking Site(s) of the fact that he/she has taken over your account.

Employees must be aware that failure to comply with the above rules regarding Networking Sites could result in disciplinary action or dismissal even if the failure to comply occurs outside the workplace.

9 Status of this policy

This policy does not constitute a contract and the Company reserves the right to change its terms at any time. Failure to comply with this policy may lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination of Your employment or engagement with the Company.

10 Acknowledgement of receipt of policy

You are required to read a copy of this policy and return it, signed, to [your line manager] to acknowledge that you have read and understood its terms
